Risk Disclaimer

Bluestone Exchange Ltd

Bluestone Exchange Ltd is a company registered under the laws of the Republic of Cyprus with registration number Z157892L and registered address at 106 Sheikh zayad Rd, Aspin Commercial Tower, Dubai ("the Company"). The Company does not provide any of the investment services listed in the First Schedule of the Investment Services Act, Chapter 370 of the laws of Malta, is not a broker, and does not accept deposits.

Only 7.35% of traders who purchase a challenge successfully pass to the funded phase. This percentage is based on data from the Company's inception to the present. Past performance is not an accurate indicator of future results, and the success rate of traders advancing through the challenge reflects historical performance and does not guarantee or predict future outcomes.

The information on this Website is not intended for residents of countries or jurisdictions where its distribution or use would violate local laws or regulations.

All content published or distributed by the Company and its affiliates is provided for general informational purposes only and does not constitute:
(a) investment advice,
(b) an offer or solicitation to buy or sell any securities, or
(c) a recommendation, endorsement, or sponsorship of any security, company, or fund.

Testimonials featured on the Company's Website are not necessarily representative of other clients or customers and do not guarantee future outcomes or success. Any use of the information found on the Company's Website is at the user's own discretion, and the Company, along with its partners, representatives, agents, employees, and contractors, assumes no responsibility or liability for how this information is used or interpreted. The Company strongly recommends seeking independent advice from a qualified financial professional before making any financial decision.

The challenges offered by the Company simulate live trading using real market data to replicate actual market conditions. Simulated trading is not equivalent to live market trading, and simulated trading results should not be used as a basis for any decision as to whether, when, or how to engage in live market trading. While these challenges are designed to mirror real-world trading scenarios, they are not identical to live market trading and may not fully reflect the complexities, unpredictability, and risks associated with actual trading with real capital.

Due to the volatile nature of live markets, these challenges may be difficult to pass, even for experienced traders. As such, they are not recommended for individuals with little or no prior trading experience.

There are significant differences between simulated and live trading, including, but not limited to, liquidity risk, differences between dealable market prices and notional price levels, risk of slippage and spreads, and the impact of transactional costs and risks in real trading. These differences may result in outcomes that are not representative of actual trading with real capital.

The technical solution offered for the Company's platforms and data feeds is powered by third-party service providers.
